

Jeannette Idiart

Jeannette Idiart has been teaching English composition and literature at Shoreline Community College since 2001. She's taught college English courses since 1990. She received her B.A. in English from the University of California at Berkeley and her M.A. in English from the University of Washington. Her special teaching interests include 19th century American literature, women's literature, Gothic literature, and interdisciplinary studies.

Tiffany Meier

Tiffany is an advisor in the International Education Department at Shoreline Community College where she assists international students regarding their academic program of study, and immigration, cultural, vocational, and extracurricular issues. She earned a Bachelor's degree from Beloit College, in Beloit, WI in 2005, and a Master's degree in education from Western Washington University in Bellingham, WA, in 2011. In 2004, she spent five months traveling and doing cross-cultural research in Estonia and Morocco, which she will be discussing as part of Shoreline's Global Eyes series.

Holly Robertson

Holly studied for in 2010 at Christ University in Bangalore, India as part of her undergraduate program at the University of Great Falls, Great Falls, Montana. She graduated from UGF in 2011 with a major in psychology and a minor in sociology. She returned to India in 2012 to work as a volunteer at the Barli Development Institute for Rural Women in Indore, Madhya Pradesh Department, India, where she taught nutrition, promoted organic gardening, and developed a manual on preserving fresh produce using solar energy. Holly plans to begin a graduate program in mental health counseling at California State University in Fresno, CA, in the fall of 2013. For more information about the Barli Development Institute, go to <http://www.barli.org/>.